

The children tightly squeeze each other's hands as they shuffle along the dimly lit labyrinth.

The unfamiliar smell burns their eyes, noses and throats.

Then, a roar comes out of the silence, out of the shadows, out of the damp, out of the stench;

an angry monstrous roar.....
and the children hold hands no more.

Big Brum presents MINOTAUR, touring to primary schools for Key Stage 2 pupils from September 2019.

Beneath the feet of the citizens of Minos lives the king's ever hungry monster.

The king feeds it with the children of his many enemies.

Once an embarrassment,
the Minotaur is now the king's greatest power.

Who is the monster? What is the monster?

A team of highly skilled child-centred actor-teachers will work alongside your children to step into the drama world of the monster's labyrinth.

MINOTAUR utilises the capacity of stories, play and drama to provide a powerful provocation to liberate your children's imaginations for meaningful talk, encouraging them to listen, respond and interpret both socially and independently and can be used as a stimulus for focussed creative writing.
